A Bill to Approve Newly Created Contracted Independent Organizations

Sponsored by: Ty Zirkle (Vice President for Organizations)

Whereas, groups that are seeking CIO status must be approved by the Representative Body at the advice of the Vice President for Organizations;

Whereas, the groups have created a Constitution and meet the requirements for becoming a CIO as established by the University and Student Council:

1. At least ten members, 51% of which must be students;
2. The group's officers must all be fee-paying students and must include at minimum a president and financial officer;
3. The group must keep an updated copy of its constitution and a list of its officers on file with Student Council;
4. The group must have signed a Contracted Independent Organization agreement, and have agreed to the non-discrimination policy;
5. Demonstrated sustainability through a proposed business plan describing the operational logistics of the organization and prior activity,

Whereas, being a CIO allows groups to apply for funding, reserve spaces on grounds rooms, participate in Student Council Activities Fairs and have other advantages not conferred upon non-CIO groups;

Whereas, the Vice President for Organizations has made the following recommendations regarding CIO approval to the Representative Body;

Therefore be it enacted, the Vice President for Organizations seeks approval of the following recommendation for CIO status from the Representative Body:

CIO Name	Recommendation
Hoos Focused	Approve
International Youth for a Better World	Approve

Older Wiser Law Students	Approve
The Rival	Approve

Hoos Focused

The purpose of Hoos Focused is to provide the best non-pharmacological, student-led support and resources to students in the Charlottesville with AD/HD or like symptoms. Our goal is to unlock the full academic, social, and cognitive capacity of every member so that their differences do not limit them.

International Youth for a Better World

International Youth for a Better World at UVA is the University of Virginia chapter of IYfaBW, an international NGO. The mission of IYfaBW is to train and support local civic leaders and change-makers around the world so that local communities have the capacity to address their own challenges. IYfaBW aims to become the most significant international organization that is predominantly led by young people and to work with every country around the world to build their community into a more just and prosperous society. The organization’s philosophy is: One goal, one focus, one result. IYfaBW believes in focusing on one goal at a time because when all of our resources are devoted to a singular focus, we can produce real results more efficiently. The goal of IYfaBW at UVA is to further the mission of IYfaBW through fundraising efforts and research work while also benefiting UVA students through education about the global community.

Older Wiser Law Students

The OWLS at UVA strive to enhance the experience of older-than-typical law students by organizing social events, hosting guest speakers, and arranging networking opportunities that can uniquely benefit older students.

The Rival

The Rival at UVA is established for the expressed purpose of:

1. Bringing the University of Virginia an authentic, student voice that students can relate to. The articles we publish will be local to our university. We aim to provide the reader, with a fresh, new perspective on what's happening at the university and the surrounding Charlottesville area.

2. Having all operational, logistic, and creative decisions be made by the students. To allow members to create their own teams, design their own marketing campaigns, and build their own identity on Grounds.
